

Congressional Voting Record 2001

Message from the Director

Dear Friend,

The Peace Action Education Fund (PAEF) works for the global elimination of nuclear weapons, an end to the conventional arms trade, and cutting military spending in order to address human needs. While this voting record is only a snapshot of one year, 2001, you can see who voted to support those aims and who did not.

One vote sticks out, of course, the one that authorized war in response to the horror perpetrated last September 11. One member of Congress, Rep. Barbara Lee of California, voted against it. Perhaps others would have considered alternatives to rushing into an open-ended war had the vote not been scheduled just three days after September 11, when most of the nation was still in shock. That path was not taken, and the consequences will be with us for years to come.

This voting record probably looks a lot like those of the early 1980s. Then, as now, a president new in office was able to push his military program through a mostly deferential Congress. In just a few years, however, it became clear that the public did not support Ronald Reagan's military buildup, and the peace movement successfully mobilized to turn the tide toward nuclear arms reductions.

If the past is indeed prologue, then the challenge before us is clear. We must articulate and build grassroots support for real solutions for a safer world: support for the force of law, not the law of force; rapid progress towards nuclear and conventional disarmament; a foreign policy reflecting American values of democracy, human rights, social and economic justice. Communicating with your members of Congress is a good place to start.

This voting record is a powerful tool for educating the public, and for holding members of Congress accountable. Use it well!

For peace and justice,

Kevin M. Martin
Executive Director
Peace Action Education Fund

Negative PAC contributions indicate a net return of money. In many cases this likely occurs when a member of Congress returns a contribution from a previous cycle.

* A number of PAC contributions were not available, or were otherwise unapplicable: Hutchinson (AR-3) and Scarborough (FL-1) resigned; Maokley (MA-9) and Spence (SC-2) died.
